No. 08-93

SUPPORTING THE RECOVERY OF THE HAWAII STATE MAMMAL, THE CRITICALLY ENDANGERED ENDEMIC HAWAIIAN MONK SEAL

WHEREAS, the Hawaiian Monk Seal, Monachus schauinslandi, is a critically endangered seal that is endemic to the waters off the Hawaiian Islands and was known to the native Hawaiians as Ilio-holo-i-ka-uaua, or “dog that runs in rough waters”; and

WHEREAS, to raise awareness of the species’ plight, the Hawaiian Monk Seal was declared Hawaii’s official State Mammal on June 11, 2008, by Lieutenant Governor James Aiona; and

WHEREAS, Hawaiian Monk Seals are among the most endangered species of all seals, although the Mediterranean Monk Seal is even rarer, and the Caribbean Monk Seal, last sighted in the 1950s, was officially declared extinct in June 2008; and

WHEREAS, the population of the Hawaiian Monk Seal continues to decline, and in 2008, it is estimated that only 1,200 remain throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, human and environmental factors such as habitat loss, competition for food supply, marine debris entanglement, disease, shark predation, and climate change have contributed to the species decline; and

WHEREAS, Hawaiian Monk Seals are protected by the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA) and the Endangered Species Act (ESA), which listed the Hawaiian Monk Seal endangered in 1976; and

WHEREAS, the MMPA and ESA protect the species and the ecosystems upon which they depend, and individuals harming, harassing, taking, or killing these animals are subject to fines of up to $50,000; and

WHEREAS, most of the Hawaiian Monk Seal population exists in the Northwest Hawaiian Island, the small islands and atolls in the Hawaiian island chain located northwest of the islands of Kauai and Niihau, where the seals are declining rapidly; and

WHEREAS, there are 100-150 seals found elsewhere in the State and this subpopulation is increasing; and

Resolution No. 08-93

WHEREAS, saving the Hawaiian Monk Seal from extinction requires developing government and private partnerships to raise public and visitor awareness about response and recovery programs; and

WHEREAS, the Hawaiian Monk Seal Recovery Plan, signed by the National Marine Fisheries Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Administrator on August 2007 requires a budget of approximately $7 million to adequately fund the recovery programs in this plan; and

WHEREAS, the 2008 Federal budget approved for the recovery plan was approximately $2.1 million, which may possibly receive an increase of up to $4 million; and

WHEREAS, the ESA and MMPA require the State of Hawaii to write an Incidental Take Plan for mammals taken in commercial and recreational fisheries, which includes adequate responses to fishing interactions, other harmful interactions, and human disturbances; now, therefore,
